

You Can Get Help If You Are Not Satisfied With Your Services

If you have concerns or feedback about the services you have received, please share with your counselor or the program. We strongly believe this is the best way to express your concerns. Program staff are here to address your needs and to listen to you. If you are not comfortable talking to program staff or continue to have concerns, then you may contact the following agencies:

- For help with filing regarding inpatient and/or residential services, you may call Jewish Family Services (JFS) Patient Advocacy Program at (619) 282-1134 or 1-800-479-2233.
- For help with filing regarding outpatient services, you may call the Consumer Center for Health Education and Advocacy (CCHEA) at their toll-free (877) 734-3258 (TTY 1-800-735-2929).

If you have a grievance about your care, want to appeal a decision that limits your care, or want to find out the status of an appeal or grievance, you may contact one of the agencies listed above. Medi-Cal beneficiaries have access to services and rights as specified in State and Federal regulations.

You can also file an expedited appeal when the standard process could seriously jeopardize life, health or the ability to attain, maintain or regain maximum function.

Need More Information?

For more information on the Grievance and Appeal Process and your rights under SMHS and DMC-ODS, ask your provider a copy of the County of San Diego Behavioral Health Member Handbook or find a copy online at www.optumsandiego.com on the Beneficiary & Families page.

Behavioral Health Services

If you think you need behavioral health (BH) services such as specialty mental health services and/or substance use disorder services, you can call your county using the telephone number listed on the back of this pamphlet. Once you contact the county, you will receive a screening and be scheduled for an appointment for an assessment.

You can also request BH services from your managed care plan (MCP) if you are a member. If the MCP determines that you meet the access criteria for BH services, the MCP will help you to get an assessment to receive BH services through your county. Ultimately, there is no wrong door for getting behavioral health services. You may even be able to receive BH services through your MCP in addition to BH services through your county. You can access these services through your BH provider if your provider determines that the services are clinically appropriate for you and as long as those services are coordinated and not duplicative.

Your Rights As a Medi-Cal member:

- Be treated with personal respect and respect for your dignity and privacy.
